Check up on the Valley's nursing homes -- from your computer

Posted: 6/3/2004 8:06:00 PM

A new report says California's nursing homes are not meeting standards.

The California Health Care Foundation found that more than one-third of the nursing homes in the state did not meet minimum nurse staffing standards in 2002 and a majority of them did not pass federal inspections.

For information on the more than 70 nursing homes in the valley, visit the following sites:
